NOTE:REMINDER:

This Friday June 15th: SESRA annual meeting 7 p.m., M Café at Windy Hill

June 2007

Hello SESRA:

Announcing the 11th SESRA Golf Tourney
Benefiting the Southeastern Squash Racquets Association

July 24, 2007

1 p.m. Shotgun start

4-person scramble format

Prizes for first and second teams

Closest to the hole, longest drive competitions

At Atlanta National Golf Course

Crafted by renowned father and son team of Pete and P.B. Dye, Atlanta National Golf Club sprawls across 240 acres of natural hardwoods, babbling brooks and undulating terrain. The course has many distinguishing and unique features, including dramatic zoysia grass fairways and immaculate bentgrass greens. In addition, you'll find that the Dyes incorporated into the course all the design elements for which they are so famous, including undulating fairways, treacherous pot bunkers, waste areas with cross ties, and even an island green.

The 18-hole championship course measures 7,007 yards and carries a slope of 141 and course rating of 74.4 from the championship tees.

Sign up with your Club captains:

- Concourse Athletic Club – Michael Yang
- Piedmont Driving Club – Alladin Mitha
- Windy Hill – Frank Johnson or Dave Bridges.

SESRA Silent Auction:

Email bids to RMBurton@irsquared.com by July 17

ITEM NUMBER ONE: A Mountain High, a four-day weekend at Highlands Cove, North Carolina.

Min. bid: $500. Value: $1,000.

Life in the mountains: It's a dream; it's nature; it's space in which to live fully and breathe deeply; it's a way of life; it's a sense of wonder and beauty as far as the eye can see. Take a four-day weekend at this three-bedroom condominium in the gated community of Highlands Cove, a prestigious mountain community tucked between the mountain hamlets of Highlands and Cashiers in western North Carolina.

Highlands Cove is a 430-acre sanctuary in the clouds — pristine terrain alive with mountain laurel, rhododendron, oaks, hemlocks, wildflowers and wildlife. Enjoy the changing leaves, hike in the surrounding Blue Ridge mountains, or go shopping in nearby Highlands.

And the golf? Here's a review:

"Mountain golf. When those two words are spoken, visions of dramatic views, elevation changes, and bent grass fairways immediately spring to mind. Highlands Cove Golf Club gives the player all of that and more, much more. It's been said in the past that great scenery doesn't make for a great course design... Well, this is the exception that simply cannot be ignored. It is, in a word, magnificent. At a cost of 30 million dollars, 3 years of construction and a LOT of dynamite, this behemoth of a design can literally take your breath away while standing anywhere on the course by just taking in the incredible vistas overlooking the Carolina highlands or the "jaw-dropping" mountain backgrounds. This Tom Jackson design of 6582 yards, sits precariously on the side and in the valley of a beautiful range of mountains. The course, at its highest elevation points, rises over 4700 feet above sea level. Course conditions are spectacular with bent grass greens and lush, bent grass fairways."

- Condo sleeps six (1K,1Q,2T). Greens fees not included ($75 per round). Weekend in September or October to be negotiated with owner.
- Thanks to Bob Burton

Item Number 2: Brunch for two at the Four Seasons.
Min bid: $100.

When only the finest will do, take your significant other to the best brunch in Atlanta. The Park 75 at the Four Seasons Hotel serves all meals, but their brunch is rated the best in Atlanta. The restaurant's tranquil contemporary space maintains a sense of elegance and dignity. During the day, sunlight streams through three floor-to-ceiling windows, illuminating white columns. Executive chef Robert Gerstenecker, who grew up on a farm in Canada, crafts a menu that rigorously respects the seasons. Brunch is one of the city's most elegant experiences, featuring a raft of ever-changing small dishes. Be sure to have one of the very serious mimosas. Thanks to Michael Gough.

Item Number 3: Two preseason tickets to see the Falcons play the Bengals, August 27. Min. bid: $100.
Value: $150.

The Bengals will make their first trip to Atlanta in the preseason since 2004, when Cincy came away with a 30-21 victory.

Section 203, second row. Thanks to Bob Burton.

Item Number 4: Braves versus Phillies on Labor Day.
Min bid: $100

Catch that fly ball you've been waiting for with four dugout ducats to see the Braves battle the Phillies on Labor Day, Monday Sept. 3
... great seats!

Thanks to John Gordon.

Item Number 5: A complete squash outfit. Min bid:
$200

Tired of swinging the same old racquet, peering through those scratched and dusty lenses at an old, slick ball? Courtesy of Charlie Johnson's Squash Shop, you can refit, renovate, and revamp your squash wardrobe with the following:

Prince O3 Silver Squash Racquet - Retail $209.95

Prince Pro Lite Eyewear - Retail $29.95

Prince Squash Balls (Doz.) - Retail $39.95

Prince Headbands (2) - Retail $10

Prince Wristbands (2) - Retail $12

Total Package Value - $300+

Item number 6: LEGO returns to the court...
Min. bid $50.

This whimsical Lorraine Gilman drawing puts the game in its proper perspective: that of Lego, the globe-trotting Jack Russell terrier who truly knows how to savor the moment ... or at least try to.

LEGO KNEW IF HE JUST CHANGED HIS GRIP
THAT HE COULD MASTER HIS BOAST.
