Hello SESRA:

Richard Millman's Rules and Refs Clinics in Atlanta Sat. March 27:

Game on, as they say, and few people put their game face on like Charleston pro Richard Millman. Richard is one of the top squash pros in the world, as evidenced by his capture of both the British and U.S. 50s championships within the past 60 days.

They also say: Don't bring a knife to a gunfight. Squash players of all abilities who don't take the time to understand the rules play their matches at a distinct disadvantage to those who do. Understanding how to get a stroke (or avoid giving one) begins with understanding what one is... which is a considerable upgrade from the informal give-and-take of most club matches.

Richard's understanding of the game is matched by his competitive nature and cerebral approach. Spend 90 minutes with Richard, and you will learn how to properly referee a match but more importantly, how to move your squash game and strategy from random to deliberate. You will be able to pass a club referee online test at US Squash and be certified to ref at the next club tournament.

SESRA is sponsoring this Rules and Referees clinic with Richard Millman, six-time national champion in age groups and doubles, the weekend of March 27 in Atlanta. The clinics are open to all players, SESRA members or not, and will run about 90 minutes. Sign up with your local pro.

National Masters draws five area pros.... Result? Two firsts, two seconds and a third. Not bad, SESRA!

The US Squash Masters Championships was held March 12-14 in Rhode Island and locals (by age) Andre Maur, Richard and Pat Millman, Tom Rumpler and Michael Gough made the trip from SESRA. With more than 15 national titles between them, this group is the core of the best squash the Southeast has to offer.

Richard Millman captured the national 50s title, his sixth U.S. championship in singles and doubles. Pat also won the Women's 55s after five or six finalist finishes. I think the Millmans may be the only spousal national champs ever! In a round robin draw, Pat defeated Diana Roper 3,(4),10,(9),9 to gain the win. Richard handled Canadian Michael Bertin 7,(7),3,2 in the finals to take the title.

Andre Maur cruised through his matches until meeting perennial contender and defending champ Dominic Hughes in the final. Andre captured the first but Dominic proved too strong, (6),1,10,5.

Michael Gough survived a five-gamer against Texan Warren Young to gain the finals against Vincent Taylor. Struggling to find his length, Michael gained steam in the third game but a little too late, 0,3,12.

Tom Rumpler, seeded sixth in the 55s, beat Bill Kaplan in four in the quarters to upset the seeding, then lost to first seed Rashid Aziz in three. Tom won the 3-4 playoff against Riaz Arshad, 11,4,9.

Other notable friends of SESRA: former Concourse pro Chris Lang lost in the plate finals of the 40s to Peter Schulman in 4 and Wade Beardsley took Dominic Hughes to five games in the semis of the 45s.

Reminder of Charlie Johnson's support of SESRA:

Support those who support you! We continue to be grateful that we have the support of Charlie Johnson's Squash Shop (www.cjsquash.com) which gives SESRA members a 5% discount on orders under $100 and a 10% discount on orders over $100.

Here's how it works:

When you place your order, in the comment/memo box enter SESRA and your USSRA membership number. The discount will be taken before processing.

Hope this continues to be of interest.
